ROMANIAN POTTERY EXHIBIT AT LIBRARY
An exhibit of Roumanian pottery containing many beautiful ornamental and useful articles from the collection of Mrs. R. R. Smith is on display this week at Torrance library. Among the utilitarian items are milk jugs, which after use are displayed on the picket fences of the farms to add a colorful border to the homesteads.

Wine jugs with hollow handles, which provide the drinking spouts, and Turkish coffee cups are also on exhibit. Among the purely decorative pieces are vases ornamented with raised characters depicting scenes of national folk dances, as well as handsome wall plaques and smaller pieces such as ash trays. The art work is done in rich tones of the blue, cream and tan, coloring typical of Roumanian art. The showing is enhanced by scenic photographs of the Transylvania mountain country showing its people in every day life.

Messes. and Mmes. Ben F. Hannebrink, Sr., and Joe Tavan, enjoyed a dinner party recently at a Belmont Shore cafe.

Don't Reveal Military Secrets!

On battle fronts every day men risk their lives to discover the location and strength of the military units of the enemy. Yet at home, too many of us are presenting the enemy with information of the same military value, the Office of Censorship says in a statement.

This is the information which newspapers and individuals are asked not to tell the enemy:

DO NOT TELL the names of ships upon which sailors serve.

DO NOT TELL the troop units in which soldiers serve overseas.

There is no objection to revealing that Private John Jones is in Australia or that Seaman Tom Brown saw action in the Pacific, but there is military information which endangers the lives of American fighting men in stating that Private John Jones, "Company C, 600th Infantry," is in Australia, or Seaman Tom Brown, "Aboard the U. S. S. Wisconsin," is in the Atlantic.

ABE MELLINKOFF... oldest son of Albert Mellinkoff, one of the owners of the Torrance, Grand and Gardena theatres, was advanced to major in the Air Force at San Francisco this week. He was a captain. David Mellinkoff, another son, is a lieutenant in Australia and Sherman Mellinkoff, the youngest son, was recently commissioned a lieutenant in the Medical Corps.

R. M. "ARMY" ARMITAGE... recently enjoyed a 48-hour furlough from his station at Las Vegas where he is a mechanic in the Army Air Corps with Mrs. Armitage and his daughter Doris at their home 1217 1/2 Cota ave.

TOM KING... seaman, 1/c, enjoyed a short leave and visited his mother, Mrs. Fanny King here Sunday.

YOUR HOUSE AND THE WAR
You, your family, your house... all the things that make up your life, are now part of the war effort. What you do without, equips our soldiers, feeds our Allies. The little day-by-day economies you make, turn into War Bonds. Today, it is the homemaker's job to run a well-ordered, comfortable home on much less than before. Durable reminders of worn sheets can be used to patch others or make pillow cases. Worn bath towels can be cut down into wash cloths. Old blankets, worn thin, can be stitched together for the warmth of a new one. We do not urge you to buy anything you do not need. The honest merchant's job is two-fold: to discourage waste and hoarding... and to see to it that everything his customers buy is sound in quality, so it will last a long time.
